October Highlights

Training:

On October 21, 2012 I attended the National School Resource Officer Training in New Britain, CT. The Class was 40 hours of instruction, taught by a nationally recognized retired SRO from Salem, NH. During the class I was instructed on proper techniques for presenting to children of all age levels. I also learned about resources available for school and school resource officers for educating students and teachers. The class provided me with up to date techniques for maintaining a safe, secure environment conducive to learning.

Law Enforcement:

This month, I investigated several thefts that occurred inside the men's locker rooms at Winslow High School. With the help of Winslow High School staff, I implemented a plan in attempt to stop any further thefts from occurring. At this time, it appears that the changes have been successful in stopping any further thefts.

Community Activities:

This month I taught a Halloween Safety Class to the Girl Scout Troop at Winslow Elementary School. I provided them with a tour of the police cruiser, and taught them the tools necessary to have a safe Halloween.
